Superintendent's Message

Dear Seniors,

"Everything happens to everybody sooner or later, if there is time enough," George Bernard Shaw once said. Today it is happening to you and me. After 12 years of school, you now graduate.

You are well prepared to face the world unashamed. I have lived through 40 years of this century. During my lifetime, I have seen more changes than any of my forefathers could have seen in their wildest dreams. You will now help shape the world. You will be criticized, but never let go of your dream for achieving excellence. Sometimes it is a lonely road and not an easy one.

May I compliment you on the dedication and service you have rendered me and the school.

May the good Lord hold you in the hollow of His hand!

Yours sincerely,

Marvin W. Porter

Youth dreams of all the years shall hold, -
Of poems writ, of battles won,
Of statues made of love, of gold,
And honors, added one by one;
How sweet the song of Hope, if sung,
When life is young!

Man's dreams are stern and few indeed;
His youthful aims he finds despised,
For in a world of strife and greed
Ideals must be sacrificed;
Alas, there is so little time
In Manhood's prime!

Age dreams of what the years have brought, -
The blots upon life's tear-dimmed scroll,
The brave attempts that came to naught,
The unsolved problems of the soul;
How sadly is the tale retold,
When life is old!

"Beloved youth," the old man said,
"All is not vain, be comforted!
Seek not thine own, but others joy:

And our love will always be true.
We'll be faithful to your colors,
Ever true to the white and blue;
And when time has come for parting,
And we leave our home for distant shores
We'll spread your name and uphold your fame,
You'll live in our hearts forever more."
